The family retired rather late, and in a very short time every one about the house was sleeping soundly. Mr. Vail had considerable money about his clothes, both in silver and paper. The gentleman conducts a big business and is is not an uncommon thing for him to have several hundred dollars in the house at one time. On this occasion when he went to bed he laid his watch and other jewelry on the dresser and hung his trousers, in the pocket of which there was $218 in paper currency, near the bed, as was his custom always.

On the Lisbon street side of the house, where the bed room fronts, the windows are about on a level with the street, and as this was left open it was an easy matter for the burglars to gain access to the room. However, from developments later it would seem that the burglar never entered the room. When Mr. Vale arose at an early hour Monday morning his trousers were missing. One of the most peculiar robberies in the history of the city was committed on Sunday night or early Monday morning. The details are so simple and were so cleverly worked out that guilt upon anyone.

Nathan H. Vale conducts a meat market at the intersection of Jethro piece of ground on the steep hillside It is now believed that the painter fronts on Jethro street and the family

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Vail, with their family, spent the day with rela-The parties who met Depoy in this tives in the country, returning home making sufficient illumination for all ordinary purposes.

The family retired rather late, and in a very short time every one about the house was sleeping soundly. Mr. Vail had considerable money about his clothes, both in silver and paper. The gentleman conducts a big business and is is not an uncommon thing for him to have several hundred dollars in the house at one time. On this occasion when he went to bed he laid his watch and other jewelry on the dresser and hung his trousers, in the pocket of which there was $218 in paper currency, near the bed, as was his custom always.

On the Lisbon street side of the house, where the bed room fronts, the windows are about on a level with the street, and as this was left open it was an easy matter for the burglars to gain access to the room. However, from developments later it would seem that the burglar never entered the room. When Mr. Vale arose at an early hour Monday morning his trousers were missing. Pursuaded to Return the Booty.

Two well known boys of the Wes End escaped arrest Saturday night by returning a basket of eggs which the had stolen from a lady from the coun several rolls of butter and left a baske of eggs and her pocketbook on the seat of the buggy. The youthful thieves made their way stealthily to the buggy, in broad daylight, and seized the basket of eggs and ran with it

A neighbor lady saw them and has tened to the store and told the keeper who went after the boys. When first told of the matter they both soundly denied their guilt, but when the store keeper told them they would either have to return the property or answer to a charge at police headquarters they marched back with the eggs. Or account of their parents no complaint was made against the boys, but if such an attempt is repeated they will be given the full benefit of the law.

JUDGE TAFT IS APPOINTED.

To Be Inaugurated Civil Governor of Philippines on Thursday.

Washington, July 2 .- The president formally appointed William K. Taft, of Ohio, civil governor of the Philippine islands. He will assume control of the civil affairs of the archipelago July 4, the military commander being relieved of authority in civil matters in all districts, except third successive year chosen chairman where the insurrection is still on. The appointment was made under the heading of the war department in conformity to the program mapped out by the administration after the decisions of the supreme court in the insular cases

> It is suggested that Judge Taft would eventually be elevated to the supreme bench in the event of a vacancy during President McKinley's term in return for his services in the Philippines.

English Robbers.

Speaking of the early Plantagenet period, Mr. Henry, in his "History of Great Britain," remarks that the number of robbers was so great that the judges could not prevail upon the juries to find any of them guilty.

Even under the most rigorous administration of Edward III a numerous gan went to sleep on the Central band of them assailed the town of Boston in 1275 at the time of the fair, set it on fire and carried off an immense booty in money and goods. Their leader, one Robert Chamberlain, a gentleman of great power and wealth, was taken, tried and executed, but he could ample water for all purposes during the mass literally covered his head not be prevailed upon to discover any of his accomplices. As the other robbers of this period were very numerous, so some of them were very cruel, and the character which one of their chiefs wore embroidered upon his coat in letters of silver might be applied to many others-"I am Captain Warner, commander of a troop of robbers, an enemy to God, without pity and without remorse." (Henry's "History of Great Britain," book 4, chapter 7.)-Gentleman's Magazine.

Benton.

When Thomas Hart Benton, the noted Missourian, wrote his famous work, "Thirty Years In the United States Senate," which every one praises and no one reads, his publishers, D. Apple-be would ever condescend to make.

Benton was massive in body and muscular. No man in public life was his equal in physical strength, endurance and courage. In reference to a .586 quarrel in the senate he once said: "I never quarrel, sir. I sometimes fight, sir, and when Benton fights, sir, there is always a funeral, sir." Benton was sturdily devoted to the Union. He broke with many friends in consequence. He bore the cognomen "Old Bullion" because of his support of bimetallism.

SENATOR KYLE DEAD.

The South Dakota Statesman Expired at His Home In Aberdeen.

Aberdeen, S. D., July 2.-United States Senator Kyle died at his home

St. Paul, Minn., July 2.-Senator Kyle was stricken at his home at Aberdeen about 10 days ago. His trouble was of malarial origin, and resulted in a functional affection of the heart, which caused the greatest alarm. A consultation of physicians was held and his case soon took a turn for the better, the heart action growing stronger and the general condition much more encouraging. One of the latest bulletins from his bedside last week was to the effect that

DIVORCE BILL VETOED.

Gov. Stone Thinks It Would Open the Door Too Wide.

Harrisburg, July 2.-Gov. Stone vetoed the bill to qualify a libellant in an action for divorce to be a competent witness to all matters material in issue where there has been per sonal service of the subpena as well as in all cases pending where there have been two returns of subpenas of non est inventus by the sheriff and due notice to the respondent by publication is required by law and the rules of the court.

The governor's objection to the bill is that it would open a wide door in the obtaining of divorces.

Owes His Life to Neighbor's Kindness

Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neghbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhoea, was attended by two physicians who gave him little, if any relief, when a neighbor learning of his serious condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured him in less than 24 hours. HOT WEATHER ADVICE.

Infirmary Director-G. W. ARMSTRONG.

When the mercury in the thermometer hovers about the 95 degree mark it seems almost an insult to an intelligent man to advise him to keep cool. Yet it is the sort of advice that is timely and sound. If one cannot keep his bodily temperature down, he can at least preserve his mental equilibrium and refrain from fussing and fretting. Unnecessary exertion, either mental or bodily, should certainly be avoided. It does no good to go about talking about the weather and its discomforts. There are some things that people of average good sense can perceive for themselves. If it is a hot day, they know it as soon as the man who informs them of the fact. Hundreds of people who talk to you of the danger of ever-exertion in hot weather never appear to think there may be danger in over-exerting their tongues.

The best hot weather advice one can follow is to keep from talking and thinking of the temperature. Next in importance is the advice to avoid ice water as much as possible, and if you must drink it, dring sparingly. One should be temperate in eating also. Meats and heating foods should be tabooed and fruits, vegetables and plain bread substituted. Most of the people ferers are simply suffering from over- etery. eating. As to work and worry, the less a person indulges in either when the thermometer is at 90 or above, the longer he will live.

THE SHIRT WAIST MAN.

The world is surely growing wiser as it grows older. A few years ago any man aspiring to good standing. either in the world of business or fashion, would no more have appeared on the streets on a summer day, without starched collar and cuffs, than he would have jumped into the river. Now we find the same man wearing either a flannel shirt or a shirt waist, and no coat or vest. He is just as respectable as formerly and decidedly more comfortable.

The shirt waist has not only made its appearance in fashionable places, but also in the pulpit. Even there it attracts only passing comment. On each previous occasion the jury disagreed, but yesterday they took but little time to arrive at a verdict.

The suit was brought about three years ago and has been docketed for every term of court since that time. Hare alleged that Stewart was guilty of alienating his wife's affections and asked $10,000 damages. The case brought by the prosecution seemed very plausible for a time, but it is stated that some sensational evidence was brought out yesterday which seemed to indicate that the suit was instituted for mercenary motives and thus brought about the decision of the jury.

SMALL CITY HALL

Chester's New Municipal Building to Be Erected at a Cost of $750.

Chester council met in special ses sion last evening and determined the matter of a city building, which has occupied attention since the organization of council. The building will be small and suited only to present needs. It will be 20x30 and one-story high. The building will contain only the mayor's office, which will also be used for a council room and a room containing two iron cages for cells. These will be the best of their kind. and it is thought will answer the present needs.

The lot is of sufficient size that a larger building can be erected whenever necessary. The building determined upon and the cages will cost about $750. It will be located on the corner of Fourth street and Indiana avenue, the lot having been purchased from the tin mill people. Council is now ready to receive bids for the building, which will be put up as soon as

York, Pa., July 2.-The official report of the readings at the local weather station shows that the mercury reached 104, equaling any previous record. The humidity was 44 per cent. In the center of the city the thermometer showed 105 degrees.

Lancaster, Pa., July 2.-The present hot wave breaks all local heat records for June 30 and July 1, and has thus far resulted in one death, besides many prostrations. The maximum was reached when a sheltered thermometer reached 105. Dennis Sherry, aged 50, a laborer on the new Strasburg trolley line, while working near Engleside, was overcome and died in a few minutes, the coroner pronouncing heat the cause.

Williamsport, July 2.-Yesterday was the hottest day in Williamsport since Aug. 12, 1900. The temperature, as recorded by the official thermometer is the City ball tower. 80

CHAPTER IX.

THE TRUTH MADE KNOWN. RAIG THOMPSON never drew a truer simile-and he was full of them - than he did when, while advising with Lisle, he assured him that he could not throw a loop over circumstance and drag it along, a willing captive, as they did the steer, clinching his argument with the additional statement, "It's got a way of slipping out and roping you instead." It is the experience of every man sooner or later to be roped in by circumstance, and, although Richard Maxwell had battled with and defied events all his life, he, like others, was destined at last to fall a victim to that wily foe which knows so well how to watch and wait.

The eyes that watched him unceasingly while he worked became more dim as the minutes glided into the past, and death hovered nearer and nearer to Richard Maxwell.

Accustomed all his life to being alone with his father, Lisle had forgotten the presence of strangers in the house, but suddenly he remembered. He sprang from the room and ran to the one occupied by Mr. Thomas, bursting precipitously into it and shaking the sleeping man fiercely.

"Will you come, sir, at once? Something has happened to my father!" he cried. "He is dying!"

"Good God! What is it? What has happened? Your father? Dying, did matter?" exclaimed the suddenly awakened man.

"I do not know. Please come. I know that he is dying."

"That I will. It may not be as bad as you think. Where is he?" Mr. Thomas had leaped from the bed and was rapidly drawing on his trousers. "In the room off the library. Hasten,

She started up with a scream, but Lisle's quick words reassured her in-

"My father is dying," he said, with more calmness. "Mr. Thomas said that you would help me. Will you come?"

"Yes; at once. Where is he?" "Come to the library."

He hastened then to his father's side, but Thomas was there before him, bending over the bed. When Lisle would have recommenced his efforts at resuscitation, the Missourian waved him aside.

"Wait, young man. Has Erna come?" "I am here, papa," replied her voice from the doorway.

Mr. Thomas raised himself slowly tween Lisle and the bed. His kind face tered, and Lisle grouched half down,

She was cot constituted "after the manner of women generally" in any sense of the word, for she was a typical western girl, who, bereft of her mother in her infancy, had ruled her father and his household with a rod of iron ever since her birth. But she was superlatively feminine in all things, deliciously feminine in most of them, strikingly so in the fact that nobody could tell, herself least of all, what she would do next. Frank, generous, open hearted, impulsive and headstrong, her red of iron was incased in velvet, and her most imperious commands purred themselves into favors

She was fond of excitement and mastery. What woman is not? She was conscious that for the first time in her life she was part and parcel with a rovery verge of a precipice that overlooked a mystery of the most remarkable kind. One year ago all of the coal properties in the Pittsburg district which ship coal to the lakes, were collected into one organization, known as the Pittsburg Coal company. About that same time the same interests which ship coal from that territory down the river formed what has since been known as the Monongahela Coal company, each being a combination of smaller companies, making an organization of considerable importance. The desire to control other coal territery in the same fashion that the larger companies might be easier handled by Mr. Morgan, has led to the selection in certain sections of confidential agents. As an outgrowth of this policy an organization was completed in Chicago 10 days ago known as the Illinois Coal company, which owns two-thirds of all of the coal land in Illinois and Western Indiana. About the same time it became generally known that M. A. Hanna and others in this territory had about completed the absorption of most of the coal properties in the Massillon district. This expected to be completed in the next 10 days. Resolution Offered to Alabama Constitutional Convention.

Montgomery, Ala., July 2.-Delegate Reynolds, of Chilton, introduced a resolution in the constitutional convention providing that no newspaper in this state or representative thereof receive or accept a pass or other free transportation from any railroad company doing business within the state; that a newspaper. in the event that it or its representative receives or accepts and uses transportation or free passes, shall be fined not less than $5,000 for each violation of this section, and that said railroad company who, itself or through its agent, issues to such person transportation shall be fined a like amount for each violation thereof. He based the ordinance on the ground that the newspapers were recognized as great instruments for the public good and that if they accepted passes they would feel under obligations to the railroads.

The Power of Etiquette.

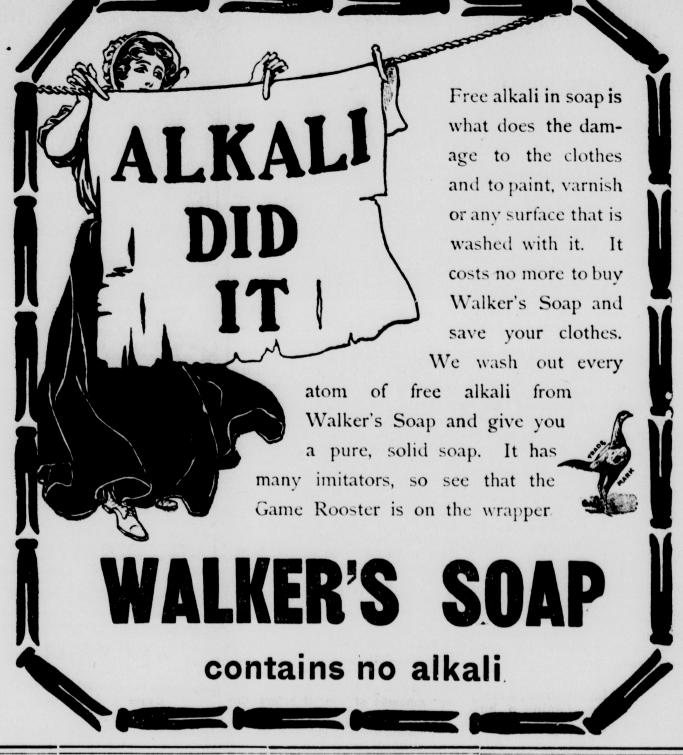

A good story comes from Washington. It seems that there is sometimes a difficulty at official and diplomatic dinners in determining who should rise and break up the entertainment.

When Dom Pedro, then emperor of Brazil, was entertained at the White House, he was informed by some well meaning but muddle headed senator that he would be the last of the guests to depart.

The president's wife, on the other hand, told her other guests that the emperor would depart first and no one would leave till after the royal party had gone.

The result was that no one ventured to go for fear of a breach of etiquette. At last, at 3 o'clock in the morning. some poor, tired woman pretended illness, and thus the deadlock was bro-

Retail Interests at Cleveland to Be Pocled Scon-Smaller Combines Have Been Getting Companies Together-East of Mississippi.

Cleveland, July 2.-The Leader was expected to say today:

Before the first of September all the big companies producing bituminous coal will have been gathered into one organization, similar to the United States Steel corporation. The capitalization will be enormous, probably second only to that of the big steel trust. 'As an auxiliary to this movement, one of the constituent companies of the greater organization, a complete when every one else has gone. pool of all of the retail soft coal in terests in Cleveland will be effected within the next 10 days, for which preliminary steps have about been coalition, first started in with his coal combinations three years ago, making the first movements along the line or biting, the snobbishness, the eternal controlling the products of the Ohio and West Virginia fields. At that time he obtained complete control of the mining property in the Hocking and Shawnee valleys. In order to give an outlet for this coal he purchased certain railroad property, and this started the combination mania along the line of railroad ownership which has gone to extraordinary dengths. The proceedings in the present combination are similar to those display ed in the formation of the steel trust. One year ago all of the coal properties in the Pittsburg district which ship coal to the lakes, were collected into one organization, known as the Pittsburg Coal company. About that same time the same interests which ship coal from that territory down the river formed what has since been known as the Monongahela Coal company, each being a combination of smaller companies, making an organization of considerable importance. The desire to control other coal territory in the same fashion that the larger companies might be easier handled by Mr. Morgan, has led to the selection in certain sections of confidential agents. As an outgrowth of this policy an organization was completed in Chicago 10 days ago known as the Illinois Coal company, which owns two-thirds of all of the coal land in Illinois and Western Indiana. About the same time it became generally known that M. A. Hanna and others in this territory had about completed the absorption of most of the coal properties in the Massillon district. This expected to be completed in the next 10 days. The West Virginia coal production is virtually owned by one company, the Fairmont Coal company, which in turn is the property of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The other interests in the territory are all owned by the Norfolk and Western railroad, the tion, being owned by one company. AGAINST NEWSPAPER PASSES.

Resolution Offered to Alabama Constitutional Convention.

Montgomery, Ala., July 2.—Delegate Reynolds, of Chilton, introduced a resolution in the constitutional convention providing that no newspaper in this state or representative thereof shall receive or accept a pass or other free transportation from any railroad company doing business within the state; that a newspaper. tive receives or accepts and uses transportation or free passes, shall be fined not less than $5,000 for each violation of this section, and that said railroad company who, itself or through its agent, issues to such person transportation shall be fined a like amount for each violation there-He based the ordinance on the ground that the newspapers were recognized as great instruments for the public good and that if they accepted passes they would feel under obligations to the railroads.

The Power of Etiquette.

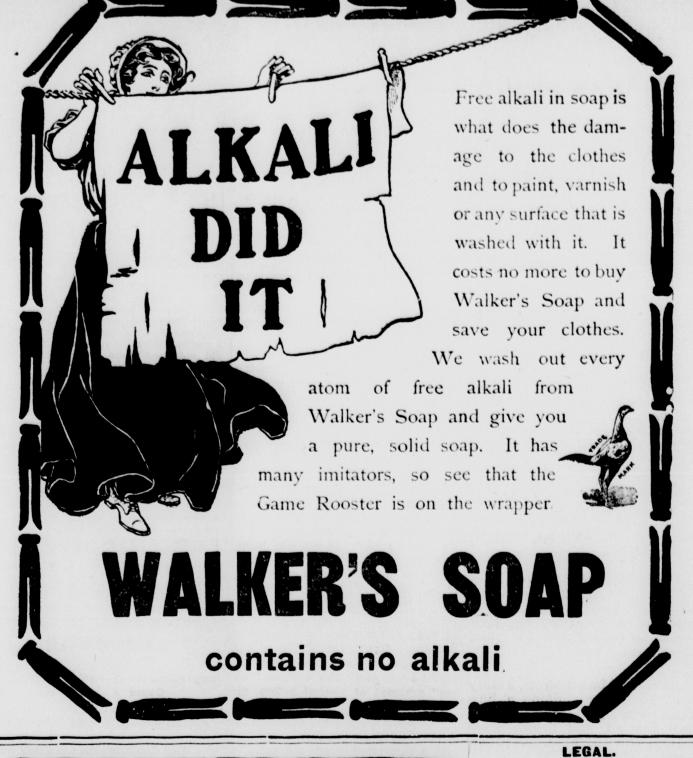

A good story comes from Washington. It seems that there is sometimes a difficulty at official and diplomatic dinners in determining who should rise and break up the entertainment.

When Dom Pedro, then emperor of Brazil, was entertained at the White House, he was informed by some well meaning but muddle headed senator that he would be the last of the guests to depart.

Of 1533 Orange Street, Los Angeles, Cal., writes: "I had been afflicted with my eyes for over a year with such a dreadful itching and inflammation that I could not use them for anything. Physicians had given me many different remedies which were like using so much water; they measured my eyes for glasses, which I got and wore for some time, but they did not benefit me in the least. My mother desired me to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce and explain the condition of my eyes. I did so, and after following your advice, and using eight bottles of the 'Pavorite Prescription' and eight of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' can say my trouble is entirely cured. I would advise any one so afflicted to try these wonderful medicines. My health was never so ful medicines. Benton was massive in body and muscular. No man in public life was his equal in physical strength, endurance and courage. In reference to a quarrel in the senate he once said: "1 never quarrel, sir. I sometimes fight, sir, and when Benton fights, sir, there is always a funeral, sir."

Benton was sturdly devoted to the Union. He broke with many friends in consequence. He bore the cognomen "Old Bullion" because of his support of bimetallism.

HOT WEATHER ADVICE.

When the mercury in the thermometer hovers about the 95 degree mark it seems almost an insult to an intelligent man to advise him to keep cool. Yet it is the sort of advice that is timely and sound. If one cannot keep his bodily temperature down, he can rium and refrain from fussing and fretmental or bodily, should certainly be avoided. It does no good to go about talking about the weather and its discomforts. There are some things that people of average good sense can perceive for themselves. If it is a hot day, they know it as soon as the man who informs them of the fact. Hundreds of people who talk to you of the danger of ever-exertion in hot weather never appear to think there may be danger in over-exerting their tongues.

The best hot weather advice one can follow is to keep from talking and this city. thinking of the temperature. Next in importance is the advice to avoid ice water as much as possible, and if you should be temperate in eating also. Meats and heating foods should be taferers are simply suffering from over. etery. eating. As to work and worry, the less a person indulges in either when the thermometer is at 90 or above, the longer he will live.

THE SHIRT WAIST MAN.

The world is surely growing wiser as it grows older. A few years ago any man aspiring to good standing. either in the world of business or fashion, would no more have appeared on the streets on a summer day, without starched collar and cuffs, than he would have jumped into the river. Now we find the same man wearing either a flannel shirt or a shirt waist, and no coat or vest. He is just as respectable as formerly and decidedly more comfortable.

The shirt waist has not only made its appearance in fashionable places, but also in the pulpit. Even there it attracts only passing comment. There is certainly no good reason why a minister of the gospel, whose mind is supposed to be above the trivial things of earth, should continue to bind himself in the chains of custom when Caused a Man to Kill His Wife And other men have freed themselves therefrom. A preacher ought to be able to give a better sermon on a hot Warren, O., July 2.—Farmer Rolla day, unfettered by starched laundry Hawkins, of Newton Falls, shot and and unweighted by superfluous cloth- instantly killed his wife and then at-

The field is one which should be cultivated. To develop it properly, we must have a merchant marine. As is suggested by a contemporary, it is just as clear now No. 122 as it was to the mind of the late James G. Blaine that South America holds vast trade opportunities for the producers of this country-particularly the manufacturers-and that the efforts of our diplomacy and statecraft cultivating closer trade relations with settlement day at Berlin without a that part of our own hemisphere.

ference is soon to be held in Mexico In Stocks Not Realized Monday. Amalgamated Strike and Other Discouraging Features.

New York, July 2.- Expectations of higher prices for stocks, which were aroused by the action of the market during the latter part of last week, were not realized Monday. It is no unusual thing for the effect of July disbursements upon the money market to be delayed, sometimes for a week or two, the looked-for demand for reinvestment failing to appear and the rate for money holding comparatively firm. These conditions held on Monday, although there was some re laxation in the call money market. There were, however, a number of more or less disturbing factors which discouraged buying, and when last week's buyers attempted to take their profits they met no demand to absorb their offerings, and prices melted Wilson's away easily on a small volume of business. The tone of the foreign markets was quite cheerful and the occasion for some opening advances should be turned in the direction of here. The passing of the semi-annual hitch was a great relief to all the foreign markets, and heavy disburse ments of government interest in Lon don made money and discounts easy there, but the market here had to face the action of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers in inaugurating a strike in the steel trade. Officers of the United Marshall News Stand. States Steel corporation professed to belittle the effects of the strike, but its effects were manifest upon the price of the company's stocks nevertheless. The independent steel companies were also weak. States Steel, both common and pre ferred, lost 134 and Colorado Fuel and Tennessee Coal about 3 each. The expected dividend action on United States Steel today was also a factor in the situation, the bears striving to discredit rumors that the common stock would be placed on a 4 per cent dividend basis. Fears of damage to the corn crop from drouth, in Mis souri, Kansas and Texas, especially depressed the corn-carrying grangers which were more vulnerable by reason of last week's strength. The de cline reached 314 in St. Paul, 3 in Rock Island, 21/2 in Illinois Central, 214 in Union Pacific and Texas and Pacific, and 2 in Atchison preferred. The fierce heat had its effect on the trading, as it had on all other kinds of human activity. There was notable strength in the Iowa Central stocks and in the New York, Chicago and St. Louis stocks, their gains extending to about 2 to 6 points. Most of the active stocks were off a point or more during the day and the closing was heavy and dull.

Jury Reaches a Verdict in a Sensational New Cumberland

The case of R. E. Hare against Ed-New Cumberland yesterday afternoon and in ten minutes they returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. This was the third time the case had been heard in circuit court. On each previous occasion the jury disagreed, but yesterday they took but little time to arrive at a verdict.

The suit was brought about three years ago and has been docketed for every term of court since that time. Hare alleged that Stewart was guilty of alienating his wife's affections and asked $10,000 damages. The case brought by the prosecution seemed very plausible for a time, but it is stated that some sensational evidence was brought out yesterday which seemed to indicate that the suit was instituted for mercenary motives and thus brought about the decision of the jury.

SMALL CITY HALL

Chester's New Municipal Building to Be Erected at a Cost of $750.

Chester council met in special ses sion last evening and determined the matter of a city building, which has occupied attention since the organization of council. The building will be small and suited only to present needs. It will be 20x30 and one-story high. The building will contain only the mayor's office, which will also be used for a council room and a room containing two iron cages for cells. These will be the best of their kind. and it is thought will answer the present needs.

The lot is of sufficient size that a larger building can be erected whenever necessary. The building determined upon and the cages will cost about $750. It will be located on the corner of Fourth street and Indiana avenue, the lot having been purchased from the tin mill people. Council is now ready to receive bids for the building, which will be put up as soon as

HEAT RECORD BROKEN.

In Philadelphia, Where It Was Hottest For July In

30 Years.

In Manhattan and Bronx Boroughs, and 21 Deaths in Brooklyn-14 Deaths In Philadelphia-Many Prostrations In United States.

Washington, July 2.- The weather bureau thermometer recorded a maximum temperature of 102 degrees here. Fortunately there was not much humidity in the atmosphere. There were 20 cases of heat prostration reported and one resulted fatally, Lewis Ashton, a negro laborer, 46 years of age, dying not long after he reached the hospital.

The present hot wave started in the west June 20, and yesterday the weather bureau officials reported that high temperatures were recorded in most sections east of the Rocky mountains and many places west of them. Rains, most of them moderate in amount, had fallen in many places. The precipitation had been very great in a few places. In Chicago the fall amounted to 1.56 inches, in Jacksonville, Fla., to 1.24 inches; Omaha. Miss Elizabeth Anderson is visiting Neb., .68 inches, and Davenport, Ia .34 of an inch. Thunder storms had oc curred in West Virginia, Iowa and the lower lake region. By today relief was promised in the middle Mississippi valley, the lower Missouri valley, the Upper Lake region, and by tomorrow in the Ohio valley and possibly the western part of the Lower Lake region. For about 48 hours fol-Mrs. James Gibson has returned lowing last night, along the northeastern coast, the prospects favored more hot weather. In New York city the probabilities seemed to favor a continuation of existing conditions, with no immediate prospect of relief. In the latter city the temperature yesterday was again 98, the highest previous records for that city in July for 30 years being 99. In Philadelphia the heat broke all records for the past 30 years for July, reaching a maximum of 102. Some of the other high temperatures recorded during the day by

Many Deaths Reported.

Between the hours of 2 a. m. Monday and midnight last night there were reported 57 deaths and 141 prostrations in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx.

From midnight Sunday night to 9 o'clock last night 21 deaths and 36 prostrations had been reported Brooklyn.

There were so many ambulance calls that the police were called on to supply patrol wagons, and every ambulance did double duty in responding to calls. Many patients were carried to the hospitals in cabs and carriages and several went to Bellevue and the Harlem hospitals in moving vans. The prevalence of the grip among the horses of the city also tended militate against effective work, and in

THE TRUTH MADE KNOWN. RAIG THOMPSON never drew a truer simile-and he was full of them - than he did when, while advising with Lisle, he assured him that he could not throw a loop over circumstance and drag it along, a willing captive, as they did the steer, clinching his argument with the additional statement, "It's got a way of slipping out and roping you instead." It is the experience of every man sooner or later to be roped in by circumstance, and, although Richard Maxwell had battled with and defied events all his life, he, like others, was destined at last to fall a victim to that wily foe which knows so well how

The eyes that watched him unceasingly while he worked became more dim as the minutes glided into the past, and death hovered nearer and nearer to Richard Maxwell.

Accustomed all his life to being alone with his father. Lisle had forgotten the presence of strangers in the house, but suddenly he remembered. He sprang from the room and ran to the one occupied by Mr. Thomas, bursting precipitously into it and shaking the sleeping man fiercely.

"Will you come, sir, at once? Something has happened to my father!" he cried. "He is dying!"

"Good God! What is it? What has happened? Your father? Dying, did you say? Shot? Hurt? What is the matter?" exclaimed the suddenly awakened man.

"I do not know. Please come. I know that he is dying."

Morgan Formed Combines.

"J. P. Morgan, the advocate of coalition, first started in with his coal combinations three years ago, making controlling the products of the Ohio and West Virginia fields. At that time he obtained complete control of the mining property in the Hocking and Shawnee valleys. In order to give an outlet for this coal he purchased certain railroad property, and this started the combination mania along the line of railroad ownership which has gone to extraordinary

The proceedings in the present combination are similar to those display ed in the formation of the steel trust. One year ago all of the coal proper ties in the Pittsburg district which ship coal to the lakes, were collected into one organization, known as the Pittsburg Coal company. About that same time the same interests which ship coal from that territory down the river formed what has since been known as the Monongahela Coal company, each being a combination of smaller companies, making an organization of considerable importance. The desire to control other coal territery in the same fashion that the larger companies might be easier handled by Mr. Morgan, has led to the selection in certain sections of confidential agents. As an outgrowth of this policy an organization was completed in Chicago 10 days ago known as the Illinois Coal company, which owns two-thirds of all of the coal land in Illinois and Western Indiana. About the same time it became generally known that M. A. Hanna and others in this territory had about completed the absorption of most of the coal properties in the Massillon district. This expected to be completed in the next 10 days. The West Virginia coal production is virtually owned by one company, the Fairmont Coal company, which in turn is the property of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The other interests in the territory are all owned by the Norfolk and Western railroad, the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, or the practically one big railroad organiza-tion, being owned by one company. Now the Illinois Coal company, the Pittsburg Coal company, the Monongahela Coal company, the Fairmount Coal company, the Hocking Coal company and the Massillon Coal company organization, the name of which has resort. not been selected. All of these will be operated from one general office with, however, auxiliary offices in the immediate vicinity of the property and with one general lake shipping office in Cleveland. In this combination it is expected that the Pittsburg Coal company shall be the cenare grouped.

"Along with this organization will go also the coal docks and fast load ing plants that are now owned by the various coal companies, which shall hereafter make a part of the big organization. This will include those which are located along Lake Erie.

Resolution Offered to Alabama Constitutional Convention. Montgomery, Ala., July 2.—Delegate Reynolds, of Chilton, introduced a resolution in the constitutional convention providing that no newspaper in this state or representative thereof receive or accept a pass or other free transportation from any railroad company doing business within the state; that a newspaper. in the event that it or its representative receives or accepts and uses transportation or free passes, shall be fined not less than $5,000 for each violation of this section, and that said failroad company who, itself or through its agent, issues to such person transportation shall be fined a like amount for each violation there-He based the ordinance on the ground that the newspapers were recognized as great instruments for the public good and that if they accepted passes they would feel under obligations to the railroads.

The Power of Etiquette.

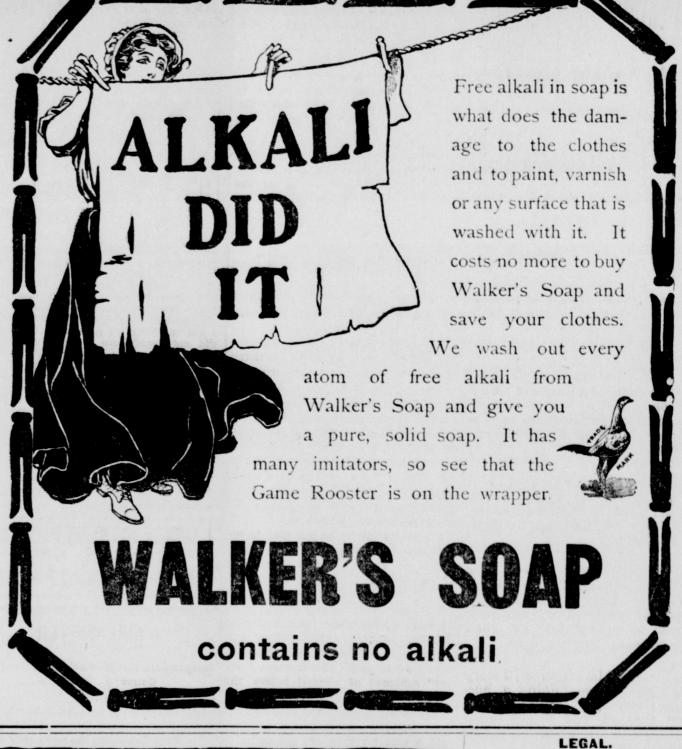

A good story comes from Washington. It seems that there is sometimes a difficulty at official and diplomatic dinners in determining who should rise and break up the entertainment.

When Dom Pedro, then emperor of Brazil, was entertained at the White House, he was informed by some well meaning but muddle headed senator that he would be the last of the guests to depart.

The president's wife, on the other hand, told her other guests that the emperor would depart first and no one would leave till after the royal party had gone.

The result was that no one ventured to go for fear of a breach of etiquette. At last, at 3 o'clock in the morning. some poor, tired woman pretended illness, and thus the deadlock was bro-

Of 1533 Orange Street, Los Angeles, Cal., writes: "I had been afflicted with my eyes for over a year with such a dreadful itching and inflammation that I could not use them for anything. Physicians had given me many different remedies which were like using so much water; they measured my eyes for glasses, which I got and wore for some time, but they did not benefit me in the least. My mother desired me to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce and explain the condition of my mother desired me to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce and explain the condition of my eyes. I did so, and after following your advice, and using eight bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and eight of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' can say my trouble is entirely cured. I would advise any one so afflicted to try these wonderful medicines. My health was never so ful medicines. My health was never so good as it is now, and I shall never tire of praising Dr. Pierce's medicines." Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter and secure a specialist's
